There once was a prince
with a beautiful castle.

He lived all alone,
just on his own.
His parents were dead,
his brothers gone
and so he said:

"This cannot go on.

I must find a princess to live here with me.

That not how it should be."

He got on his horse and went to a town

to look for a wife and start a new life.

To the first one he saw, he told of his castle.
She looked in his eyes and said: "Tell me no lies."

"You don't have a castle, it cannot be true."

The prince said: "Then it's goodbye to you."

To the next girl he said: "How do you do?"

I am a prince and who are you?"

"I am Miss Paula and I am sorry to say,
you don't look like a prince, I wish you good day."

"Well, I am a prince, you could be my wife.

But do what you want with the rest of your life."

To the last one he said:

"I am just John and who are you?"

"I'm princess Claire, how do you do?"

"Thank you my dear, I am okay.

But this is not my lucky day."

"Tell me John, what sort of work do you do?"

"I work in a castle, what about you?"

"Well, to be honest, I am looking for a man.

Can you help me?" "Yes, I think I can."

"What is it that you can do for me?"

"I know a prince and he is still free."

"Then take me to him as fast as you can.

This prince of yours could be the right man."

"Alright dear Claire, I will do as you say.

Come with me, let's go right away."

They went to the castle on the back of his horse.

He said: "Wait in the hall, take some rest.

Let me find the prince, I will do my best."

At the end of the hall our John turned round.

He came back to her and said: "Look who I found!"

"I am prince John. You must be princess Claire.

Welcome to my castle, I am happy you are there."

But the princess said: "I am not a fool, my dear.

Will you please let me out of here?

You are just John and nothing more."

And princess Claire walked out of the door.
